Kathryn LaPierre, from NHES, had this to say about the upcoming events.... “We are excited to bring back in person events, especially partnering with Seacoast United. Since I was introduced to James at Seacoast United, he has shown me how dedicated they all are to bettering the communities they are a part of, and NHES is honored to be included. Virtual events have been great, and we will continue to host them, but the in-person job fairs bring another level of connection. We are looking forward to continuing our partnership with Seacoast United!”

“We have collaborated on 6 virtual career fairs with NHES since 2021.” Said Sales and Sponsorship Director James Peterson. “We have always wanted to host an In Person event and after speaking to Kate and her team, we knew this was the perfect time to go live.” Peterson went on to say, “We are always looking to use our platform to make a difference and by hosting these events at our facilities in Concord and Hampton, it will go a long way in serving as a resource for all of the local businesses, job seekers, and community members in the area.”
